Film details

Djemo, Goat and Brucellosis

Abstract: Brucellosis is a very dangerous disease that affects sheep, goats and other animals. It also gets transferred to people and it is very hard to treat. About 500.000 people get affected every year, worldwide. Until year 2004. in Bosnia and Herzegovina, brucellosis was not significantly present. But with uncontrolled import of live stock, that started that year, brucellosis became much more common in this country.
